Post Angkor Ascension 2012 Interview

Brahmajarn Lee Wei-De

What was the most significant part of your experience – for you personally?

To be with a group of like minded people, being skilled in their own ways, coming together as one. Group consciousness, to connect with the shift of the energies from the stars observing how the shifts are affecting the changes of the energy of earth in so many different areas. Such as; the Ley lines, Vortexes, the waters, the oceans, the animals that live in the ocean animals that live on the land, the chakras of human beings, the energy grids around the earth, so many aspects of life as all are citizens of earth.

For each of those people who are participants in ceremonies at this time as the shift is taking place, I have gratitude and respect of all those brothers and sisters. The unity that is being created from wisdom keepers and elders around the worlds at these times, is so important to happen but, it is happening and that allows that unity to create a cause and effect into counsels

How do you feel that experience affected the group, local community and do you feel it did in fact have a global/universal effect?

I felt it created a unity and connection at a deeper level such as the soul level and with that unity creating a clearer understanding of what each person in the group can do now and in the future. But also making new contacts, new friends that have a like mind that can support and commune together for the future too. Through that co-creation concept people from different parts of the world that came together, are taking a part of their experiences home with them and sharing them with their local communities. As so on, connecting with like minded people in the local communities to start expanding the co-creation. There was already a lot of gatherings around the world that had been established at such a valuable time of 12/12 and many of these communities have connected also. It is a clear indicator that a lot of people are waking up at this time. There seems to be a consistency in the information that is being shared now it does not matter what culture, wisdom or teachings you are from, the same things are being said of how it will be life on earth here and for the future.

After your experiences – what does the future hold for you now? - does it change the way you view yourself/humanity/ responsibility as a light worker?

It has given me a deeper understanding of reiki, and as a reiki teacher and a healer, we can do reiki on the waters, animals, plants, the trees, the earth. As some of these mentioned have been forgotten by teachers and reiki therapists that they actually can do reiki in all of these areas mentioned. But many of the therapists want to look at the sky and don't realise how much they can help in these areas. So for myself and also other reiki therapist we can all do a bit more of this and help in the future.

About the way I view myself it makes me realise what I can do. I realise that a lot of people are actually joining together to help more on earth it's no longer an individual its larger and larger groups of people but I did learn something more about connectivity that people can be doing group meditation though doing that mediation in a group its still only an individual until the connect and that connection would be generally with the hands not breaking that connection they must connect by touching and its only that that creates group consciousness as people are rising and resonating the same creating an incredible power but still only if they share a connection by some touch.

Same as what has been said earlier its about continuing to learn how keep building circles of people.

Apart from a great spiritual impact this experience had are there any emotional mental and physical experiences you would like to share?

For me personally, its just about the things that I have learned. On a mental viewpoint it gave me a clearer picture of how uniquely different reiki is. So different to mediations practices It gave me a mental clarity that a lot of the meditation practices are self will and can be very dangerous.

So, some of those meditation practices are a selfish practice purely for self gain, monetary gain, love ownership and more!

People desire for more for themselves, without trying to help the bigger picture of other people in our communities. Meditating from the heart itself and feeling love. The mind is not thoughts, the mind is not greedy, the mind is not active will: What are you doing here? But more: What can I do to help humanity while I am here?

What can you suggest people can do for their part in helping today and for the future?

Try to study and understand more about a saying that is spreading the world right now: Get out of the head and into the heart. Try to study into subjects such as 6th Sense, Gut Feeling and Intuition, where most of the time there is not a logic to explore these ares of self-development, encorporating the 6th sense, feeling and intuition into a life style.
