Angkor Ascension 2012 – Interview

Robin Youngblood

Can you please give us a brief description about yourself including:

What is your background?

What have you studied?

Who are you?

I'm a shamanic practitioner and that means I don't call myself a Shamen sometimes others do. Our way if someone calls themselves a Shamen they probably not they may be in ego. I do what I do and people give me what title they want. I've been trained by my own N.American Medicine people: Siberian Shamen, the originals Ulchi Tribe in Siberia Kamchatka Peninsula in Siberia they never left their village before. I've studied also with Polynesia Maori hawaiian Kupunas (Elders and medicine people) about some of the plant medicines, the teachings and stories and the energy healing.

Soul retrieval – when there is a trauma in this or another life, sometimes a part of our essential, our essential self, our soul, separates from the rest of the soul and part is empty. The symptom is that people will tell me that they feel like something is missing. I can help them thru shamanic journey work to go back and find the pieces missing and then bring that piece back and help them to integrate. I also do things like clearing entities; Aura Cleansing, Chakra Balancing, House Clearings and blessings, Weddings, Ceremonies, Invocations, Private Session, Energy Healing and Readings.

Can you name an experience you've had that is connected to Angkor Wat?

I've been to many temples over the world and each one has many magical access points I.e Ley Lines, Vortexes and Vortices, Portholes which with ceremony can be activated or de-activated as necessary. I've been told Angkor Wat is a Porthole for the Gods and has already begun to connect with the energies there. To see and understand who wants to come through to assists us in integrating the new levels of love and healing energy that are being activated now.

What is your spiritual connection to Angkor Wat?

I work with the Ancestors, the Ancient Ones from many nations in the world. I actually feel a lineage connection from a lifetime here in what is now called Asia.

How is that spiritual connection of benefit to humanity?

One of the gifts that my Elders saw in me is that I am a bridge across Nations, lifetimes, Spiritual pathways and as a bridge I have the facility of connection Ancient Wisdoms from many traditions in order to support these transitions between the ancient and modern worlds and technologies.

what is the good side of that connection?

Helping people to ground the many different energies that are coming in at this time and providing foundational teachings from different Wisdom Traditions to assist people to balance, incorporate and evolve to the next level of humanity.

what is the bad side of that connection?

It's sometimes overwhelming.

Can you give me a brief description of your understanding of the energy at Angkor Wat?

As these Ancient 'Gods' come through, they are asking for our respect, honour and acknowledgement. By offering ceremony and invoking their presence with offerings of flowers and fruit we will show our appreciation and in return we ask that we will be gifted with knowledge and understanding: initiation of more Psychic gifts; and ways to uplift All Our Relations through the immense shift in the energies that is happening now.

What do you feel you can bring to this experience that you would like to share with others?

I've been trained to be a ceremony facilitator to invoke the Spirits, contain energies and assist to provide a safe environment for all participants. As well I'm an activator and initiator who can help people receive new gifts and integrate them into their lives.
